ACTRESS BECOMES THIRD
WIFE OF JOHNNY DOOLEY

NEW YORK—Johnny Dooley, comedian, was married to Constance Madison, musical comedy actress, in Newark, N. J., yesterday afternoon. It was Dooley's third marriage.

The names of the groom and bride were officially recorded as John Dooley and Maria Fruscella. "This is my last marriage," said the groom. "She is the girl of my dreams."

Cuyahoga-co Republicans to Ask Feeding Plan Change

CLEVELAND—(By Associated Press)—The Cuyahoga-co delegation will go to the state Republican convention at Columbus Tuesday prepared to fight for a plank in the state platform calling for repeal of the contract system for feeding prisoners, used by Ohio sheriffs. If unsuccessful in the resolutions committee, A. J.
Hirshlat, secretary of the county executive committee, said the fight will be carried to the convention floor.

The present law allows sheriffs 45 to 75 cents a day for each prisoner. The 159 delegates from Cuyahoga-co will attempt to have the convention approve the cost system, whereby all food bills would be handled as all other miscellaneous bills are handled by the county. Where hundreds of prisoners are fed, it was pointed out that actual costs are far below 45 cents.

COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Final Arrangements for Convention Being Made

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Redoubled efforts to strengthen their positions today occupied the camps of William G.
McAdoo and Governor Alfred E.
Smith as the Democratic national committee went into session to complete final arrangements for the opening of the national convention at Madison Square Garden next Tuesday.

The fight between the Smith and McAdoo forces easily was the dominating feature of the closing days of the pre-convention period, but other issues particularly that of the Ku Klux Klan, also held prominent places in the discussion among the assembling delegates.

DECLARATION DEMANDED

An increasing demand from George E. Brennan, of Illinois, and leaders from other states that the platform declare specifically against the Klan added to the difficulties of the platform builders who already were divided on that point.

Meantime McAdoo maintained silence on this and other planks in the platform. At his headquarters it was made known that he had "broke" and had tried to stage the holdup without
knowledge of her husband.

YALE UNIVERSITY HEAD UNDERGOES OPERATION

BALTIMORE—Dr. James Rowland Augel, president of Yale university, who underwent an operation at Johns Hopkins hospital yesterday, was reported this morning to have passed an extremely good night. His temperature was normal. He rested well, apart from a slight uneasiness which invariably follows a surgical operation.

of Cincinnati Man

CINCINNATI—(By Associated Press)—The police had under-rest today a pretty bobbed haired young woman, who they say confessed to having attempted to hold up Tony Kornas, a confec-tioner. Singlehanded, the woman confronted Kornas yesterday,
only to have him take her revolver
and chase her out of his store.
The woman was arrested at a downtown hotel and gave her name as Mrs. Pauline Farr, 19, and her home as Chicago.

She said her husband was Albert A. Farr and was known on the stage as Ralph Valentine, a singer. According to the police, the young woman said she and her husband had come to Cincinnati to attend the Latona races.
She went "broke" and had tried
to stage the holdup without
knowledge of her husband.

REV. P. S. GRANT RESIGNS

Quits as Rector of the Church of Ascension

CLIMAXES LONG WARFARE

Clergyman Leader in Modernist Movement

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—The resignation of the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant from the rectorship of the Church of the Ascension continued as the leading topic of discussion among the church circles today. Dr.
Grant, who had served this congregation for 31 years, gave his length of service and illness as reasons for his resignation. It was "accepted with regret," by the vestry.

Dr. Grant's controversy with Bishop Manning because of the former's modernist tendencies,
as well as his engagement to Mrs.
Rita De Acosta Lydig, which was broken on May 25, have for several years made him the center of a heated theological warfare.
RECTOR'S PLANS

He announced yesterday that he would live for a while in the country and devote himself hereafter to literary work. He is already the author of several volumes on religious subjects and also of a book of poems, dedicated to Mrs. Lydig.

During the controversies that raged last year between modernists and fundamentalists, Dr.

Slain While Hunting Fugitive
in West Virginia

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—(By Associated Press)—U. S. Crawford, a state trooper, was shot to death in the Morgan-Berkeley-co mountains last night while searching for G. E. Speight, a Speight was wanted for threatening a county auctioneer who had been ordered to sell his property to satisfy a debt. Crawford and three other troopers sent to join in the hunt for "Happy" Weigle, an outlaw who had substantiated his story but certain visitors both said they had

told questions they had not been at the Fontano home, police said. Officials questioned them
all night.

Arriving at the mountain farm house, the troopers could not find Speight. Crawford went into a nearby woods to look for him.

Two shots attracted the other officers and after a search Craw-ford's body was found. The mur-derer removed a watch and some cash from the trooper's body and took his rifle and pistol. A posse of 25 men with bloodhounds are seeking Speight.

CHICAGO—(By Associated Press)—Arrest last night of Ernest Fontano, indicted with nine others on charges of participation in the $2,000,000 mail robbery of a mail train near here on June 12, narrowed the search to Max Greenberg, alleged "master mind"; Sam Grant and Blackie Wilcox, escaped from a Texas prison.

Fontano was taken in a raid on a house in which he was concealed. He denied any connection with the robbery and said he was at home the night it occurred. His wife substantiated his story but certain visitors both said they had
told questions they had not
been at the Fontano home, police
said. Officials questioned them
all night.

VICTIM'S HEAD CRUSHED

Tragedy Enacted at Corner of Third-Main-sts

Mrs. Sarah Shappell, 73, 111
E. Third-st., was killed almost immediately at 8:30 p.m. Friday when run down by an automobile at Main and Third-sts. driven by Henry Shears, Fifth and Main-sts. She died upon arrival at City hospital.

Death resulted from severe internal injuries and a crushed skull. She also sustained a broken right arm and two broken legs.

Dust cloud raised by the high wind which passed over Lima Friday night is held responsible by witnesses for the tragedy. The woman had been visiting at the home of her son, Harvey L. Shappell, 114 W. Third-st. With rising of the storm she started for her home across the street to close windows.

As she stood in the middle of the street a Vails touring car drove north on Main-st. by Henry Shears at a rate of speed reported between 15 and 20 miles an hour bore down on her. Confused by the approaching automobile and the heavy cloud of dust which hung over the road and the high wind, the woman is reported to have started to retrace her steps and then changed her mind and stepped in front of the automobile.

She was knocked to the side of the street. Vincent Ryan, 452

GRAND JURY MAY PROBE CONCERN

Investigation of Cleveland Loan Co. is Asked

ACTION TAKEN BY CRABBE

Now Receivers for Firm to be Appointed

COLUMBUS—(By Associated Press)—Developments in the case of the Municipal Savings and Loan Co. of Cleveland came thick and fast here today. Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, who has had investigators Green, Higley and Leighley in Cleveland looking into affairs of the concern, announced that he would ask the common please court of Cuyahoga co to call a special session of the grand jury there to conduct an investigation of the company.

Shortly after that the supreme court handed down a decision reversing the Cleveland common pleas court in appointing John E. Wilberding, Herman C. Baeh, and Cleveland R. Cross as receivers. This means that new receivers will have to be appointed.

Crabbe announced that he would ask the grand jury probe after he received the inspectors' reports, recommending such action and which declared there is reason to believe that crimes have been committed in the conduct of the company's business.

Judge Florence E. Allen wrote the decision concerning the receivers and it was concurred in by Judges Robinson, Marshall and Mathias and dissented to by Judges Jones and Day. A dissenting opinion will be written, it was announced.

The decision held in effect that inasmuch as the three men had had some previous connection with the Municipal Savings and Loan Co. there were interested persons and hence not qualified to act as receivers.

TAXPAYERS GET EXTENSION

$1,000,000 Outstanding Due in Next Thirty Days

Approximately $1,000,000 in taxes must be collected in Allen co within the next 30 days. Harry E. Bottkins, county treasurer, declared Saturday.

Extension of time to July 20, granted by the county commissioners Friday, affords the public a chance to make their payments to the county without being assessed an extra penalty.

Collections Friday fell far short of expectations. Bottkins had anticipated that $50,000 would be paid in. The actual collections however ran only $19,965.

While the number of property owners paying was large, the individual amounts were small. The total up to and including Friday amounts to $273,000 against $271,000 for last year.

A second warning to dealers handling cigarettes was sounded Saturday. While a great many dealers took out their licenses Friday there are a number who are still operating without a permit.

Collections in outlying towns will commence Monday. Bottkins will be at the Old National Bank, Delphos, Monday and Tuesday; Citizens Bank of Bluffton, June 25; Farmers Bank of Spencerville June 26; Farmers & Merchants Bank of Beaverville, June 30; Farmers Bank of Elida, July 1; Lafayette Bank, July 2; Bank of Huron, July 3.

Collections will close on July 20. Bottkins declares, as the books must be closed Aug. 1 to make settlement with the county and city.

SEVEN MONTHS.BRIDE IN DIVORCE PETITION SAYS HUSBAND WOULDN'T WORK

Threats alleged to have been made against her life by Russell Saunders, 27, drove Mrs. Nellie Saunders, 17, to seek protection in the home of her parents, she asserts in a divorce petition filed Saturday in common pleas court.

The two were married in Monroe, Mich., on November 26 and returned to Lima to reside. Monroe was selected as the scene of nuptials because both bride and groom were too young to marry in Ohio without consent of parents.

Because of her youth, the action is brought on behalf of the bride by Elsie Wisker, a friend.

Mrs. Saunders charges that her mate would not work, and she was forced to earn a living for both. She also accuses him of failure to support her properly.

May 1, after calling her viene names, Saunders is alleged to have threatened for fear he would carry his threat into execution. Mrs. Saunders declares she fled to her parents' home.

She asks the court to restore her maiden name, Nellie Smith.

OHIO DEATH LIST JUMPS TO 17

Illinois were added to the heat fatalities of other states.

MANY PROSTRATED

Eight persons were reported prostrated by the heat in Chicago and fifteen persons were said to have been bitten by heat crazed dogs.

Altho considerable damage was done by the storm through northern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin, Chicago suffered little.

With seventeen deaths reported due to heat in Ohio, relief was afforded by a violent wind storm which averted several deaths.

The greatest damage of the storm occurred in Racine co., Wisconsin, where a half-mile wide strip, twelve miles long was swept with estimated property loss of nearly two million dollars. Telegraph lines were torn down and rain service impaired.

OHIO DEATH LIST

COLUMBUS—(By Associated Press)—With a forecast of cooler weather and probably thunderstorms, relief from the sweltering weather which has gripped the state for the past several days and taken a toll of 17 lives was general over Ohio today.

A violent wind storm which in some sections assumed hurricane proportions, passed over the state last night, leaving in its wake cooler weather, which the weather bureau said would remain over Sunday.

Overnight deaths throughout the state compiled from scattered press reports follow:

Frank L. Cross, 45, Columbus, heat prostration.

Harry Anderson, 18, negro, Zanesville, drowned.

Catherine Irene Davis, seven months old, Cleveland, prostration.

Ernest Howard, 14, Cincinnati, drowned.

Grace Bonnelo, Cleveland, prostration.

A large number of prostrations were reported from over the state, in many cases the victim being in hospitals in serious condition.

Temperatures of 90 degrees or above were reported from many Ohio cities yesterday.

PACIFIC COAST HIT

SAN FRANCISCO—(By Associated Press)—A portion of the heat wave which assessed a heavy death toll in the east struck the Pacific coast yesterday.

Northern California experienced the warmest day thus far this year, with temperatures of 100 degrees above zero in several cities.

Southern California toasted in an unusual hot spell and warmer weather is promised for today.

The mercury climbed to 87 degrees in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

TALKS IN SLEEP, LANDS IN JAIL

Chicago Doctor Held on Charge of Bigamy

CHICAGO—(By United Press)—If Dr. Robert E. Schaeffer, 33, had paid heed to the old dictum, "If you talk in your sleep, don't mention my name"—

Dr. Schaeffer is in jail here today, charged with bigamy, all because he talked in his sleep of "Shirley." The doctor said many sweet things about and to "Shirley," Mrs. Cecilia Schaeffer told police, for she took notes and will present them in court when the bigamy case is disposed of and divorce proceedings are underway.

"Shirley" is Shirley Marie Bleo of Kansas City. Mrs. Schaeffer said. Detectives who arrested Dr. Schaeffer said their prisoner admitted having gone thus a marriage ceremony with the Kansas City girl last January 12. Dr. Schaeffer said he thought his wife had divorced him.

Mrs. Schaeffer, Number 1, said she found a note from Shirley Marie Bleo to her husband, reading, "Hello, Bobby, darlin', are you Mamma's little baby boy tonight and do you love her a whole big lot?"

Several other letters are in possession of Mrs. Schaeffer.

Dr. Schaeffer is a member of the faculty of the Kansas City University of Physicians and Surgeons and maintains offices in Kansas City and Chicago. Mrs. Schaeffer said. She became suspicious of his prolonged visits to Kansas City and discovery of his bigamous marriage followed several nights of sleep talking.

NEWTON STEVENSON, 46, DIES AFTER LONG SEIGE

Newton Henry Stevenson, 46, labored died Friday at 9 p. m. at home, 937 Reese-av, after an illness of two years.

He is survived by five brothers, Palmer, of Lima; William and John, of Alger; Edward, of Ada; and Alfred, of Delphos; also one sister, Minnie Stevenson, Toledo.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

MRS. KONRATH DIES

COLDWATER, Ohio—(Special)—The death of Mrs. John Konrath, 54, occurred at her home in Washington, west of this place, death being due to a lingering illness of cancer. Mrs. Konrath was operated on last September at Anna but her health continued to decline. The deceased is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Fennings, and a son, Perl Konrath at home.

ICE SALES SOAR

ST. MARYS—(Special)—Ice sales here last week mounted from 9,000 pounds to 27,000 pounds at one local artificial plant. Natural ice is also sold here and demands for it have tripled in the past.

DROPS DEAD

LANCASTER—J. H. Miller, 80, a member of the Grand Army, dropped dead at his home here this morning. Physicians pronounced his death due to yesterday's heart attack.

FREEZED ON BOND

LEIPSIC—Peter Dannerle, heat worker, of near Fort Jennings, was bound over to the grand jury, when arraigned before Thomas H. Rewer, Justice of the Peace, on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He was arrested by the two dry detectives, working upon funds provided by Putnamco, under auspices of the Dry Federation. He gave bond in the sum of $1,000 and was released.

HOME OWNING POSTPONED

ST. MARYS—(Special)—The home-owning and saving of Joseph Catholic church scheduled for Sunday, has been postponed and will be held on Sunday, June 25.

Convention Notes

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Joseph E. Guffey, national committeeman from Pennsylvania has arrived still as ardent a Smith rooter as a year ago. He said the great majority of the delegation was for Smith "first, last and all the time. We have no second choice." Guffey also opposed changing the two-thirds rule, urged modification of the Volstead act and stood with Brennan of Illinois against the Ku Klux Klan.

Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown, who seconded the nomination of John W. Davis at the San Francisco convention in 1920 will also second his nomination again next week at Madison Square Garden.

She was Izetta Jewell, leading woman for Otto Skinner, before her marriage to the late representative William G. Brown of West Virginia. After her husband's death she became active in politics and was a candidate for Congress in 1922 and for United States senator in this year's primaries. Her speech in San Francisco was one of the big hits of that convention.

Managers of the boom for David F. Houston, former secretary of agriculture and the treasury, have settled as close to the convention as possible, only a block away, and have plenty of literature for interested visitors.

There will be 13,500 American flags fluttering in the breezes of Madison Square Garden when the delegates assemble. The last of the banners are to be placed today with many great fans to keep up the waving if the weatherman shuts down on the air currents.

The Atlantic scouting fleet under the command of Read Admiral T. P. Magruder, including his flagship, the cruiser Richmond, cruiser Milwaukee, battleship Florida, scout cruiser Bridgeport and 25 destroyers will anchor in the Hudson during the convention and be open to visitors.

There has been very little decline in unemployment under the Labor Government. The ministry has failed to find any new solution to this problem which is the most pressing confronting Great Britain. The older parties long ago reached the conclusion that the only solution is in the increase in foreign trade, which in turn depends on settlement of international troubles all around. Great Britain cannot compel such a settlement and so unemployment continues. The Laborites have had to accept this finding as their own, and have been no more successful in international adjustments than were their predecessors.

Especially the Labor Government negotiations with Russia have been disappointing. The communists in Moscow are not in sympathy with the British ministry, holding the Laborites to be traitors to the cause of the workingman, because they do not advocate the communistic cause as it is understood in Russia. The negotiations in London have hinged over the ability of Russia to raise loan in the British money market. British financiers are reluctant to offer money to Russia without adequate guarantees which have not been forthcoming. So, the hopes of the MacDonald ministry that trade could be re-opened on a large scale with Russia and that unemployment would fall have not been realized.

The Labor Government has had to retire from several of its advanced position, tentatively taken to test the resistance of the conservative and liberal opposition.

Especially has this happened in the case of the proposal of Labor that no unemployed workingman shall be forced to vacate his house, however long his rent has been in arrears.

STATE HOUSING AID

This effort to make the landlords give house rent free has been abandoned and in its stead a new plan for erection of inexpensive houses with state aid has been adopted.

The most serious criticism of the labor government has not come from the conservative and liberal opposition, but from the radicals within the ranks of labor.

Especially severe has been the attitude toward the MacDonaldites of the Clyde group. The bitterness engendered in this quarter has been due to the inability of the labor ministry to improve the housing conditions in Glasgow, where Clyde workers live in slums as bad as in Europe.

The course steered by the Laborites between Clyde radicals and middle class liberals and conservatives has been too placid to be pleasant for the workers.

Criticism is being raised that there are too many intellectuals in the labor movement, only an impersonal interest in reform.

It is probable that the result of the MacDonald ministry's experiments will be to dump the intellectuals overboard and get down to real principles of reform with workingmen in full charge.

This will probably mean losing the next election; but winning the one to follow after.

The leading Smith and McAdoo delegations can watch each other sharply. New York and California will be seated on opposite sides of the main aisle.

So far reporters in town exceed visiting delegates in numbers. The hardships of the scribes started tonight with a dinner to the Newspaper club and continue tomorrow with a baseball game and Monday with a tournament.

HEAT KILLS HORSES

ST. MARYS—(Special)—Two horses dropped dead here Friday from heat while working on corn land, and 50 chickens in coops at the J. A. Long Co. poultry house awaiting shipment smothered in the heat. No one was injured but the neighborhood of the plant was badly shaken up. Many windows in the nearby village of Belin were broken.

ISAAC SPENCER DIES

ST. MARYS—(Special)—Isaac Spencer, 68, is dead from the effects of a general breakdown. Surviving are four sons and five daughters

FAR AHEAD AND GAINING

The Lima News has exclusive right in Lima to Associated Press News as well as United Press and NEA Service, the three leading services today.

The Lima News now is the only newspaper in Lima receiving the Associated Press.

Likewise, The Lima News is the only newspaper receiving the United Press.

And The Lima News is the only newspaper in Lima receiving NEA Service, the greatest newspaper feature service in the world.

These facts should be significant to the reading public. We feel that the public realizes the supremacy of these services for The Lima News today enjoys a lead in its field more pronounced than is common in communities of similar size in this part of the country. And it's gaining by leaps and bounds.

Believing that its readers are entitled to the best obtainable, The Lima News would willingly change with any service it receives if it were proved that there is something better from the standpoint of the public—not cheaper for the newspaper.

With exclusive use in this city of Associated Press, United Press and NEA Service, this newspaper has available all that is best for newspaper making so far as the outside world is concerned. There is no combination that can equal, much less surpass these facilities.

Locally, The Lima News is well equipped to cover its field as it is to cover the outside news. It has the largest staff to be found in a city of 55,000. Every person connected with the editorial department of this newspaper is an expert in his or her particular line.

In the district, The Lima News has a corps of some 50 correspondents who keep an eye on their local happenings for readers of this paper. For that reason The Lima News has become not only the leading paper in Lima, but is the leading paper in the district, for it prints more authoritative news than any other paper in northwestern Ohio.

If you want real news—all that's fit to print—served in a pleasing, wholesome manner without any attempt at sensationalism, you will choose The Lima News. If you want salaciousness, lurid tales of things that never happened, you do not want The Lima News. It will not fill your wants.

The News is here to serve you. Call us when you have news. Call us when you want information. We are never too busy to answer questions.

Grade Crossings

Railroad men estimate that it would cost 10 billion dollars to abolish all highway grade crossings in the United States. This, comments Barron's Weekly, is about half the entire original cost of building the railroads.

When the roads were built, construction costs were very low compared with now. Grade crossings could have been eliminated in thousands of cases, by bridging streets and roads above the steel tracks or tunneling them under, at no great increase in cost.

But the builders were not sufficiently prophetic in imagination to look into the future and realize that grade crossings would later become a grave traffic problem.

Now, at enormous expense, the railroads are gradually eliminating grade crossings—repairing their original blunder. It's like paying for a dead horse.

The big traffic problem in cities today is that streets are too narrow. When the streets were laid out originally no one dreamed that the day would come when they'd not be wide enough. The general measure seems to have been to make roads just wide enough for two wagonloads of hay to pass each other without going into the ditch.

Despite this precedent, many old cities continue laying out narrow streets, and even new mushroom towns fail to build wide enough highways for steadily increasing congestion of traffic, bound to come.

A large portion of human effort is devoted to undoing the mistakes of the past. This is especially true of individuals. For instance, the majority of people seeking health in middle age, when they should be sturdy, are the victims of improper living in youth. Ill health as a rule is the payment of a bill that has been piling up for years.

In some ways it's a good thing we can't rend the veil and have our futures revealed to us. But, if we could see ahead 10 years or more, most of us would change our habits, methods, goals and purposes—abruptly and decidedly.

Most people drift with the current. Only a few inquire carefully of veterans who have made the voyage before, and then steer a hasted course to a definite destination.

Bullet-Proof

Latest bank protection against crooks is bullet-proof glass. At a test in Indianapolis, bullets from an army automatic pistol were fired at the new glass—which cracked, but stopped the bullets, none of them going thru. The shots were fired from a distance of 15 feet.

You'll probably live to see and use glass that can be bent like tin without breaking. A nightmare for glass makers. Bullet-proof glass strikes us as this year's most striking new trick of the scientific magicians.

Abiding Faith

Before, when and after the ladies of this fair land were given the franchise it was stated, promised and virtually guaranteed that they would exercise a benign influence upon the electorate and that politics would be put thru refining fires and come forth beautifully purified. Being numbered among those simple, trusting, gullible souls who shrink from cynicism as small boys shrink from soap, we believed the statements, relied upon the promises and accepted the guarantees.

And now, or at any rate no later than yesterday, the ranking lady jobholder of the United States and its island possessions made a spirited and earnest effort to paint that political lily, Harry M. Daugherty! Almost enough to shrink a simple, trusting,

A Page from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter (Friday, the 172nd day):—Up, in festive mood, having dreamed the night thru, was in bath at McBeth's. Breakfasted lightly, on radishes and a beef hash.

Out afoot, when hailed by Chester Cable, the brave barrister and street car prince. Who does tell me the Metcalf-st extension will surely be built. If the bus business is not inaugurated.

Thru Cherry Alley, filthy in its best summer refuse. The fire department and street cleaning branch should be merged. Page Chief Mack and General Byng.

Well, here's Kit Carson, of hot-temper fame. Bowed in cheerful salutation to Harry Gayer, newly come up the green hills of the Ohio.

jurist, and Clarence Miller, near-Representative from Allen-co to Donahay's Court.

Bob Farmer, the R. & L. banker. Much room for $3,500 and $4,000 homes. None for flats and swank sun parlors. The shabby set are about built up, believe.

How that man Walther does rave! Main-st will be finished ahead of time, methinks. Frank Grant, the veteran police captain.

A high school class getting their pictures took. How that pretty one will hate the middle-age spread when it overcomes her. When her man is sitting about the house, in his stocking feet. Instead of taking her to the movies and Horn's Eatery there-after.

An old beer sign. It should be preserved by the Historical society. When Silent Cal gets his Lunched, with my wife, poor wretch, sweeping and dusting all over the place. She in no mood for silly prattle and worn-over jokes. And peev'd, coz I didn't water the flowers. Claiming it would rain. And didn't.

In the evening, read awhile until my nose grew tired. The specialist says it's my nose; but it seems to be my eye. So on the radio heard that young man of departed destiny, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan, talking to a Pittsburgh congregation. On the Pittsburg plus price agreement. And the noble Dimmycrats now in New York. Except Smith and Cox. Neither of whom William could support, and would run himself rather than so do. Thence, late into bed.

Co-Ops

There is nothing new under the sun. New York bank explores his history and finds that, as far back as the Revolutionary war Yankees had co-operative associations like the farm bureaus and granges of 1924. And they had about the same purposes.

After the Civil war came an epidemic of co-op marketing organizations to find short-cuts between farm and consumer, and credit organizations to tide the farmer thru evil days.

Economic troubles are more hereditary than any disease.

Over 8300 co-operative organizations report to the government. Nine-tenths of them deal in farm products, and do a business of about 1500 million dollars a year. Co-op marketing has reached its greatest development in California.

Problems of production are mainly solved. Problems of distribution to consumers are steadily getting further from solution. Too many young men are obsessed with the production bug. The greatest opportunities are in distribution—short-cuts between producer and consumer, eliminating superfluous middlemen.

Pioneers

Many now living can recall when railroad building was in its infancy. People hitched up Dobbin and drove 20 miles or more to see their first train.

Today our country has two and a half miles of railroad for every 1000 Americans. Total trackage is more than 264,000 miles. Practically all of this has come in 75 years.

With this precedent, it's a bit dangerous to predict that the airplane will never come into common use by the people. Airplane is no more remarkable to us than steam trains were to grandpa.

Mah-Jongg

This game, mah jongg, according to Chinese scholars, was invented by a Chinaman named Sze to entertain crews of his fishing fleet when their ships were tossed about by the four winds. That was 20 centuries ago.

The Chinese also invented chess, dominoes and playing cards. When chess becomes the national rage, thinking will have become less painful. There seems to be no agony more generally dreaded than intense, continuous thought.

Alaska

Alaska still pours a lot of gold and silver into the laps of prospectors. But she's giving nearly five times as much wealth to her salmon canning industry. It isn't true to the rules of romantic adventure, but there's more in a tin can than in a gold mine.

The great rewards of life come from concentrating on production or distribution of the simple necessities, not precious stones or gold nuggets. Select something that people virtually have to have, use a bit of brains—and success is inevitable.

It takes an optimist to be tickled at what a hard time he is having.

PROGRESS

BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

The Bible's Most Versatile Character

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The lessons of the first quarter brought before us the great men of Israel from Abraham to Solomon.

Several of these were so majestic that the second quarter could hardly equal them in interest.

Abraham, Moses, Joshua, Samuel, David and Solomon stand out in bold relief against the characters of the heathen world.

But a review of the lessons of the second quarter brings to memory another group, the like of which cannot be found outside the Bible.

Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and Nehemiah—another half dozen—are stars whose luster is not diminished by the years.

There are others during the quarter, like Rehoboam, who teach us what to avoid.

He was a haughty son; his father was wise and wealthy and Rehoboam inherited all of Solomon's faults without any of his virtues.

KINDNESS THAT RETURNS.

Elisha is scarcely second to Elijah in the impression that he has made upon the thought of the world.

It was Elisha who received with modesty and wore with dignity the mantle of Elijah, and it was Elisha who, drawing back the veil, made visible to his affrighted servant the invincible hosts that form the ever ready reserves which assure victory to every righteous cause.

It was Elisha, too, who proved the value of bread cast upon the water. The kindness shown by the Shunammite woman to the man of God returned in a double blessing—the gift of a son in his old age and the restoring of that son from death to life.

He gave immortal fame to Naaman, master of the hosts of the Syrian king, a man who was great in the sight of his master, honorable in his rank, and a man of valor—but a leper. In the striking contrast which he draws, we see how an incurable disease can overcome all the adjectives that embody praise.

Elisha's modesty, demeanor and the courtliness of royal pomp and display. He treated his distinguished visitor as he would an ordinary sufferer and bade him

Amos would find much in the world today to stir him to the utterance of words of warning; there are many who are "at ease in Zion"; who "lie upon beds of ivory and stretch themselves upon their couches"; who "eat at ease in Zion"; who "eat the lamb out of the flock and the calves out of the midst of the stall"; who "sing like songs to the sound of the viol"; and "drink wine in bowls".

We have reviewed during the quarter the exile of Israel and the sins that brought upon the Jews the wrath of the Almighty and the punishment which they deserved.

We have studied the record of Athaliah, a woman who rivaled the wicked Jezebel in evil ambitions and in heartlessness, and have seen how the Lord could save a servant whom he needed from the machinations of one as unkind and as cruel as she.

FASCINATING BOLDNESS.

We have learned, also, of the generosity of the Persian king, Cyrus, of the great work entrusted to Zerubbabel, the rebuilding of the temple; and we have enumerated together the reforms accomplished under Ezra and Nehemiah.

I have selected the six characters mentioned above, Elijah to Nehemiah, as outstanding figures in the second quarter's lessons, that we may take a parting glance at them before turning to the New Testament.

Elijah fascinated by his boldness and by his uncompromising challenge to evil doers.

His achievements were bold and the results of his work far-reaching.

He confronted Ahab, an apostate king, and rebuked him at the risk of his own life.

He was the hero in the world's greatest prayer test, and he used Naboth's vineyard to teach a most impressive lesson on covetousness.

He drew the line between the worship of God and the worship of Baal and anathematized the coward who attempted to occupy ground between right and wrong.

DRAWING THE LINE.
